

Ibrahim عليه السلام Breaks the Idols

In a land called Iraq, people prayed to the stars and the sun. They even prayed to statues and built a big temple for them.

A young boy named Ibrahim lived there. His father, Azar, was famous for carving statues. Ibrahim watched the people and thought, "How strange!"

Young Ibrahim was smart and knew this didn't make sense. He asked them, "Why do you worship stones that can't see, hear, or help you?"

The people didn't like his questions. They got annoyed and told him to stop talking.

Ibrahim didn't follow them. He knew it was wrong to worship stones.

One day, while the people went to a party, Ibrahim entered the temple with an axe.

He smashed all the idols, but left the biggest one and hung the axe on it.

When the people came back and saw the broken idols, they were very angry. “Who did this?” they shouted. They realised it was Ibrahim.

So, they threw Ibrahim into a huge fire.

Allah, The Protector, ordered, “O fire, be cool and safe for Ibrahim.” The fire obeyed Allah and didn’t hurt Ibrahim at all!

Everyone was amazed. How could Ibrahim walk out of the fire, safe and calm?

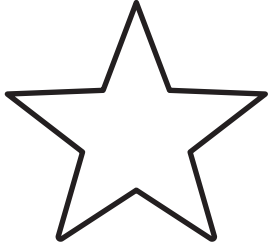

Ibrahim عليه السلام did the right thing, even when no one else did. O Allah, make me brave like Ibrahim عليه السلام.

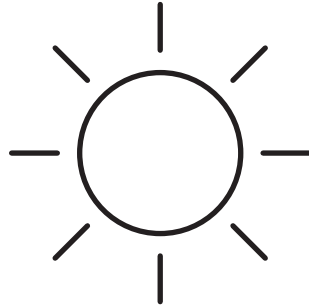

1 Read the words and copy the pictures.

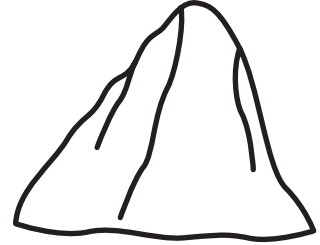

Star

Sun

Stone

2 Trace.

Allah made

the fire cool

and safe.

3 Tick all the correct answers.

I will ask and answer questions. Asking and answering questions helps me to:

Learn

Think

Understand

Make good choices

Get confused

Do something wrong

4 What did Ibrahim عليه السلام ask the people to show them that idol worship is wrong? Complete his question.

Why do you

worship _____ that can't _____, _____ or _____ you?