What is the difference between humans and Angels?

What are the 6 pillars of iman?

The 2nd Pillar of Iman

Belief in Angels is the second pillar of iman. Even though we cannot see Angels, we know and believe that they exist. Angels belong to the unseen creation of Allah (also known as the ghayb).

Angels are a super special creation of Allah. They are made from light, and they have wings - they are truly beautiful. Angels are not male or female.

Angels are the servants of Allah. They always obey Him and constantly worship Him.

Mika'il عليه السلام

He is responsible for the rain and the provisions of the creation.

Israfil عليه السلام

He will blow the trumpet on the Day of Judgement.

Malakul Mawt

IT'S STORY TIME!

The Angel of Death

One day, Prophet Musa was visited by the Angel of death who came to take out his soul. However, Musa عليه السلام was not ready to die yet. He had much more to accomplish yet: he still needed to conquer Bayt al-Maqdis.

So Musa عليه السلام did something extraordinary: he slapped the Angel of death so hard that the Angel's eye popped out! The Angel then went back to Allah telling him that Musa عليه السلام did not want to die.

Allah then replaced the Angel's eye and told him to tell Musa عليه السلام to rub his hands on the back of a calf. For every hair he could touch under his hand, he would get one more year to live!

Musa عليه السلام thought about it and then asked, "What happens after those extra years?" The Angel replied, "Death." Musa عليه السلام said, "In that case, just take me now." He then asked Allah to take him close to Bayt al-Maqdis. Allah accepted his request, and the Angel of death then took Musa عليه السلام's soul. He passed away close to Bayt al-Maqdis and was buried there.
